On the way to finding our identity we may find ourselves having these types of feelings:

- We might have a poor self concept.
- We may question our value or worth.
- We may feel like a failure.
- We may feel insecure and lack confidence.
- We may feel inconsistent emotionally or spiritually
- We could feel as if we are drifting through life ungrounded.

These feelings can describe how we feel in certain situations in life, but these things do not define us! We must be careful not to let these things become beliefs about ourselves. We are defined by what God thinks about us, not by any other circumstances!

Identity is something that is given to us by God.

It is not something we can create or earn.

We are loved by Him.

His love is what defines us!
